edTPA stems from a twenty-five-year history of developing performance-based assessments of teaching quality and effectiveness. The Teacher Performance Assessment Consortium (Stanford and AACTE) acknowledges the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium, and the Performance Assessment for California Teachers for their pioneering work using discipline-specific portfolio assessments to evaluate teaching quality. This version of the handbook has been developed with thoughtful input from over six hundred teachers and teacher educators representing various national design teams, national subject matter organizations (AAHPERD, ACEI, ACTFL, AMLE, CEC, IRA, NAEYC, NAGC, NCSS, NCTE, NCTM, NSTA), and content validation reviewers. All contributions are recognized and appreciated.

Introduction to edTPA
K–12 Performing Arts

Purpose

edTPA is a nationally available performance assessment of readiness to teach for novices. The assessment is designed with a focus on student learning and principles from research and theory. Successful teachers

- develop knowledge of subject matter, content standards, and subject-specific pedagogy
- develop and apply knowledge of varied students’ needs
- consider research and theory about how students learn
- reflect on and analyze evidence of the effects of instruction on student learning

As a performance-based assessment, edTPA is designed to engage candidates in demonstrating their understanding of teaching and student learning in authentic ways.

Summary of Tasks

In this assessment, you will develop and teach 3–5 consecutive performing arts lessons (or, if teaching performing arts within a large time block, 3–5 hours of consecutive instruction) referred to as a learning segment. Consistent with the National Standards for the Performing Arts and National Standards for the Arts Education (dance, music, and theatre), a learning segment prepared for this assessment should reflect a balanced approach to performing arts. This includes learning tasks that support students to create, perform, or respond to music/dance/theater by applying artistic skills (e.g., self expression, creativity, exploration/improvisation), knowledge (e.g., tools/instruments, technical proficiencies, processes, elements, organizational principles), and contextual understandings (e.g., social, cultural, historical, global, and personal reflections).

You will complete three tasks for edTPA:

1. Planning for Instruction and Assessment
2. Instructing and Engaging Students in Learning
3. Assessing Student Learning

The Cycle of Effective Teaching and edTPA Tasks

The three edTPA tasks represent a cycle of effective teaching. The planning task documents your intended teaching, the instruction task documents your enacted teaching, and the assessment task documents the impact of your teaching on student learning.

Evidence of Teaching Practice: Artifacts and Commentaries

To complete the assessment, you will submit artifacts and commentaries as evidence of how you planned and implemented instruction to deepen student learning in the performing arts.

- Artifacts represent authentic work completed by you and your students. These include lesson plans, copies of instructional and assessment materials, video clip(s) of your teaching, and student work samples.

- Commentaries are your opportunity to describe your artifacts, explain the rationale behind their choice, and analyze what you have learned about your teaching practice and your students’ learning. Note that although your writing ability will not be scored directly, commentaries must be clearly written and well focused.
When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, and writing. Refer to the K–12 Performing Arts Evidence Chart for information about how your evidence should be formatted for electronic submission.

Evaluation Criteria

The evidence you submit will be judged on five components of teaching practice:

1. Planning
2. Instruction
3. Assessment
4. Analyzing Teaching
5. Academic Language

You will provide evidence for the planning, instruction, and assessment components within the corresponding tasks. You will provide evidence for the analyzing teaching component across all three tasks. You will provide evidence for the academic language component in planning, as well as in the instruction AND/OR assessment task.

The rubrics used to score your performance on edTPA are included in this handbook and follow the directions for each task. The descriptors in the five-level rubrics address a wide range of performance representing the knowledge and skills of a novice not ready to teach (Level 1) to the advanced practices of a highly accomplished beginner (Level 5).

Structure of the Handbook

The instructions on the following pages guide you in putting together the artifacts and commentaries required within the three tasks of edTPA. Within each task, instructions are organized into four sections:

1. What to Think About
2. What Do I Need to Do?
3. What Do I Need to Write?
4. How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?
Additional requirements and resources are available to you in this handbook:

- Professional Responsibilities: guidelines for the development of your evidence
- Performing Arts Context for Learning Information: prompts used to collect information about your school/classroom context
- Evidence Chart: requirements for electronic evidence submission, including supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications
- Glossary: definitions of key terms; roll your cursor over each glossary term marked with a dotted underline or refer to the K–12 Performing Arts Glossary.

Review all instructions carefully before beginning to teach the learning segment to ensure that you are well prepared for all tasks. If you are submitting artifacts and commentaries to Pearson for official scoring, refer to the Pearson website, www.edTPA.com, for complete and current information before beginning your work.

2 Your preparation program will have additional resources, including the Making Good Choices document, that provide guidance as you develop your evidence.

Task 3 Assessment: Assessing Student Learning

What to Do

- Select one assessment from the learning segment that you will use to evaluate your students’ developing knowledge and skills. Submit the assessment used to evaluate student performance.
- Define and submit the evaluation criteria you will use to analyze student learning.
- Collect and analyze student work to identify quantitative and qualitative patterns of learning within and across learners in the class.
- Select 3 work samples to illustrate your analysis that represent the patterns of learning. At least one of the students must be a student with specific learning needs.
- Summarize the learning of the whole class, and refer to work samples from three focus students to illustrate patterns in student understanding across the class.
- Submit feedback on the assessment for the three students in written, audio, or video form.
- Analyze evidence of students’ language use from (1) the video clips from the instruction task, AND/OR (2) the student work samples from the assessment task.
- Analyze your assessment of student learning and plan for next steps by responding to commentary prompts.

What to Submit

- Part A: Student Work Samples
- Part B: Evidence of Feedback
- Part C: Assessment Commentary
- Part D: Evaluation Criteria

Evaluation Rubrics

Assessment Rubrics

- Rubric 11: Analysis of Student Learning
- Rubric 12: Providing Feedback to Guide Learning
- Rubric 13: Student Use of Feedback
- Rubric 14: Analyzing Students' Language Use and Performing Arts Learning
- Rubric 15: Using Assessment to Inform Instruction
Task 1: Planning for Instruction and Assessment

What to Think About

In Task 1: Planning for Instruction and Assessment, you will describe your plans for the learning segment and explain how your instruction is appropriate for the students and the content you are teaching:

- What do your students know, what can they do, and what are they learning to do?
- What do you want your students to learn? What are the important understandings and core concepts you want students to develop within the learning segment?
- What instructional strategies, learning tasks, and assessments will you design to support student learning and language use?
- How is the teaching you propose informed by your knowledge of students?

Task 1 prepares you to demonstrate and analyze the effectiveness of your teaching of the planned learning segment.

What Do I Need to Do?

- Select a class. If you teach more than one class, select one focus class for this assessment.
- Provide context information. The Context for Learning Information is provided at the end of this handbook (no more than 3 pages, including prompts).
- Identify a learning segment to plan, teach, and analyze. Review the curriculum with your cooperating teacher and select a learning segment of 3–5 lessons (or, if teaching music/dance/theater within a large time block, about 3–5 hours of consecutive instruction).
- Identify a central focus. Identify the central focus along with the content standards and objectives you will address in the learning segment. The central focus should support students in creating, performing, or responding to music/dance/theater by applying artistic skills, knowledge, and contextual understandings.
- Analyze language demands. Select a key language function, a learning task, and additional language demands required by the task.
- Write a lesson plan for each lesson in the learning segment. Your lesson plans should be detailed enough that a substitute or other teacher could understand them well enough to use them. If your teacher preparation program requires you to use a specific lesson plan format for this assessment, be sure to include the information described below.
Lesson plans should minimally include the following information:

- State-adopted student academic content standards and/or National Standards that are the target of student learning (Please list the number and text of the standard. If only a portion of a standard is being addressed, then only list the relevant part[s].)
- Learning objectives associated with the content standards
- Informal and formal assessments used to monitor student learning, including type(s) of assessment, and what is being assessed
- Instructional strategies and learning tasks (including what you and the students will be doing) that support diverse student needs
- Instructional resources and materials used to engage students in learning

Respond to prompts listed in the Planning Commentary section below prior to teaching the learning segment.

Submit your original lesson plans. If you make changes while teaching the learning segment, you will have opportunities to reflect on changes in the Instruction and Assessment Task Commentaries.

Select and submit key instructional materials needed to understand what you and the students will be doing (no more than 5 additional pages per lesson plan). The instructional materials might include such items as class handouts, assignments, slides, and interactive whiteboard images.

Collect and submit all written assessments. (Do not submit student work samples but the blank instruments as given to students.)

See Task 1: Artifacts and Commentary Specifications for instructions on electronic evidence submission. This evidence chart identifies supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications.

What Do I Need to Write?

In Task 1: Planning for Instruction and Assessment, you will write

- lesson plans
- a description of your context for learning
- commentary explaining your plans
Planning Commentary

Respond to the prompts below (no more than 9 single-spaced pages, including prompts).

1. Central Focus
   a. Describe the central focus and purpose for the content you will teach in this learning segment.
   b. Given the central focus, describe how the standards and learning objectives within your learning segment address creating, performing, or responding to music/dance/theater by applying
      - artistic skills (e.g., self expression, creativity, exploration/improvisation)
      - knowledge (e.g., tools/instruments, technical proficiencies, processes, elements, organizational principles)
      - contextual understandings (e.g., social, cultural, historical, global, personal reflection)
   c. Explain how your plans build on each other to help students in creating, performing, or responding to music/dance/theater and make connections to artistic skills, knowledge, and contextual understandings.

2. Knowledge of Students to Inform Teaching
   For each of the prompts below (2a–b), describe what you know about your students with respect to the central focus of the learning segment.
   Consider the variety of learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

   a. Prior academic learning and prerequisite skills related to the central focus—What do students know, what can they do, and what are they learning to do?
   b. Personal/cultural/community assets related to the central focus—What do you know about your students’ everyday experiences, cultural backgrounds, practices, and interests?

3. Supporting Students’ Performing Arts Learning
   Respond to prompts (3a–c) below. As needed, refer to the instructional materials and lesson plans you have included to support your explanations. Use principles from research and/or theory to support your explanations, where appropriate.

   a. Explain how your understanding of your students’ prior academic learning and personal/cultural/community assets (from prompts 2a–b above) guided your choice or adaptation of learning tasks and materials.
   b. Describe and justify why your instructional strategies and planned supports are appropriate for the whole class and students with similar or specific learning needs.
Consider students with IEPs, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students.

c. Describe common student errors, weaknesses, or misunderstandings within your content focus and how you will address them.

4. Supporting Performing Arts Development Through Language

a. Language Demand: Language function. Identify one language function essential for students to learn the performing arts knowledge within your central focus. Listed below are some sample language functions. You may choose one of these or another more appropriate for your learning segment.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Analyze</th>
<th>Compare/contrast</th>
<th>Describe</th>
<th>Explain</th>
<th>Express</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Identify</td>
<td>Interpret</td>
<td>Perform</td>
<td>Summarize</td>
<td>Synthesize</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

b. Identify a key learning task from your plans that provides students with opportunities to practice using the language function. In which lesson does the learning task occur? (Give lesson/day number)

c. Additional Language Demands. Given the language function and task identified above, describe the following associated language demands (written or oral) students need to understand and/or use.

- Vocabulary and/or symbols
- Plus at least one of the following:
  - Syntax
  - Discourse

Consider the range of students’ understandings of the language function and other demands—what do students already know, what are they struggling with, and/or what is new to them?

d. Language Supports. Refer to your lesson plans and instructional materials as needed in your response to the prompt below.

- Describe the instructional supports (during and/or prior to the learning task) that help students understand and successfully use the language function and additional language identified in prompts 4a–c.
5. Monitoring Student Learning

Refer to the assessments you will submit as part of the materials for Task 1.

a. Describe how your planned formal and informal assessments will provide direct evidence of students creating, performing, or responding to music/dance/theater by applying artistic skills, knowledge, and contextual understandings throughout the learning segment.

b. Explain how the design or adaptation of your planned assessments allow students with specific needs to demonstrate their learning.

Consider all students, including students with IEPs, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students.

How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?

When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, and writing. For Task 1: Planning for Instruction and Assessment, your evidence will be assessed with Rubrics 1–5, which appear in the following pages.
Planning Rubrics

Rubric 1: Planning for Developing Student Knowledge and Skills in the Performing Arts

4 Language demands include: language function, vocabulary, syntax and grammar, and discourse (organizational structures, text structure, etc.).

5 Language function refers to the learning outcome (verb) selected in prompt 4a (e.g., analyze, interpret).
Rubric 5: Planning Assessments to Monitor and Support Student Learning

Task 2: Instructing and Engaging Students in Learning

What to Think About

In Task 2: Instructing and Engaging Students in Learning, you will demonstrate how you support and engage students in learning:

- What kind of learning environment do you want to develop in order to establish respect and rapport, and to support students' engagement in learning?
- What kinds of learning tasks actively engage students in the central focus of the learning segment?
- How will you elicit and build on student responses in ways to develop and deepen content understanding?
- In what ways will you connect new content to your students' prior academic learning and personal, cultural, or community assets during your instruction?
- How will you use evidence from your instruction to examine and change your teaching practices to more effectively meet a variety of student learning needs?

What Do I Need to Do?

- Obtain required permissions for videorecording. Before you record your video, ensure that you have the appropriate permission from the parents/guardians of your students and from adults who appear on the video. Adjust the camera angle to exclude individuals for whom you do not have permission to film.

- Examine your lesson plans for the learning segment and identify challenging learning tasks in which you and students are actively engaged. Clips should provide a sample of how you interact to develop performing arts understandings.

- Identify lessons to videorecord.
  - Provide 2 video clips (each no more than 10 minutes in length) that demonstrate how you interact with students in a positive learning environment to support them to create, perform, or respond to music/dance/theater by developing and using artistic skills (e.g., self-expression, creativity, exploration/improvisation), knowledge (e.g., tools/instruments, technical proficiencies, processes, elements, organizational principle), and contextual understandings (e.g., social, cultural, historical, global, personal reflection).
  - The first clip should illustrate how you engage students in developing new artistic skills, knowledge, and/or contextual understandings.
  - The second clip should illustrate how you support students in the application of artistic skills, knowledge, and/or contextual understandings through creating, performing, and/or responding to music/dance/theater.
- The video clips can feature either the whole class or a targeted group of students within the class.

- (Optional) Provide evidence of students’ language use. You may provide evidence of students’ language use with your video clips from Task 2 AND/OR through the student work samples analyzed in Task 3.

- Videorecord your classroom teaching. Tips for videorecording your class are available from your teacher preparation program.

- Select 2 video clips to submit and verify that each meets the following requirements:
  - A video clip should be continuous and unedited, with no interruption in the events.
  - Check the video and sound quality to ensure that you and your students can be seen and heard on the video clips you submit.
  - Do not include the name of the state, school, or district in your video. Use first names only for individuals appearing in the video.

- Respond to prompts listed in the Instruction Commentary section below after viewing the video clips.

- Determine if additional information is needed to understand what you and the students are doing in the video clips. For example, if there are graphics, texts, or images that are not clearly visible in the video, or comments that are not clearly heard, insert digital copies or transcriptions at the end of the Instruction Commentary (no more than 2 pages).

See Task 2: Artifacts and Commentary Specifications for instructions on electronic evidence submission. This evidence chart identifies supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications.

What Do I Need to Write?

Instruction Commentary

Write the Instruction Commentary (no more than 6 single-spaced pages, including prompts) by providing your response to each of the prompts below.

1. Which lesson or lessons are shown in the clips? Identify the lesson(s) by lesson plan number.

2. Promoting a Positive Learning Environment

   Identify scenes in the video clip(s) where you provided a positive learning environment.

   - How did you demonstrate mutual respect for, rapport with, and responsiveness to students with varied needs and backgrounds, and challenge students to engage in learning?
3. Engaging Students in Learning

Refer to examples from the clip(s) in your explanations.

a. Explain how your instruction engaged students in developing
   - artistic skills (e.g., self expression, creativity, exploration/improvisation)
   - knowledge (e.g., tools/instruments, technical proficiencies, processes, elements, organizational principles)
   - contextual understandings (e.g., social, cultural, historical, global, personal reflection).

b. Describe how your instruction linked students’ prior academic learning and personal, cultural, and community assets with new learning.

4. Deepening Student Learning during Instruction

Refer to examples from the clip(s) in your explanations.

a. Explain how you evoked student responses through performances, exercises, and/or discussions and facilitated responses that supported students’ development and application of artistic skills, knowledge, and/or contextual understandings.

b. Explain how you used modeling, demonstrations, and/or content examples to develop students’ artistic skills, knowledge, and/or contextual understandings for creating, performing, or responding to music/dance/theater.

5. Analyzing Teaching

Refer to examples from the clip(s) in your explanations.

a. How did your instruction support learning for the whole class and students who need greater support or challenge?

Consider the variety of learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

b. What changes would you make to your instruction to better support student learning of the central focus (e.g., missed opportunities)?

c. Why do you think these changes would improve student learning? Support your explanation with evidence of student learning and principles from theory and/or research as appropriate.

How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?

When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, and writing. For Task 2: Instructing and Engaging Students in Learning, your evidence will be assessed using Rubrics 6–10, which appear in the following pages.

Task 3: Assessing Student Learning

What to Think About

In Task 3: Assessing Student Learning, you will analyze student learning and their language use:

- How will you gather evidence and make sense of what students have learned?
- How will you provide meaningful feedback to your students?
- How will you use evidence of what students know and are able to do to plan next steps in instruction?
- How will you identify evidence and explain students’ use of language that demonstrates the development of content understanding?

What Do I Need to Do?

- Determine which assessment from your learning segment you will use to evaluate your students’ developing knowledge and skills. The assessment should be completed by the entire class featured in the learning segment. The assessment should reflect the work of individuals, not groups, but may be individual work from a group task. The assessment should provide opportunities for students to create, perform, or respond to music/dance/theater by developing and using
  - artistic skills (e.g., self expression, creativity, exploration/improvisation)
  - knowledge (e.g., tools/instruments, technical proficiencies, processes, elements, organizational principles)
  - contextual understandings (e.g., social, cultural, historical, global, personal reflection)
- Define and submit the evaluation criteria you will use to analyze student learning related to the performing arts understandings described above.
- Collect and analyze student work to identify quantitative and qualitative patterns of learning within and across learners in the class.
- Select 3 work samples to illustrate your analysis that represent the patterns of learning (i.e., what individuals or groups generally understood and what a number of students were still struggling to understand). These students will be your focus students for this task. At least one of the students must have specific learning needs, for example, a student with an IEP (Individualized Education Program), an English language learner, a struggling reader, an underperforming student, a student with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or a gifted student.
- Document the feedback you gave to each of the 3 focus students either on the work sample itself, as an audio clip, or as a video clip.
- Respond to prompts listed in the Assessment Commentary section below after analyzing student work from the selected assessment.
Include and submit the chosen assessment, including the directions/prompts for the assessment. Attach it (no more than 2 pages) to the end of the Assessment Commentary.

Provide evidence of students' understanding and use of the targeted academic language function. You may choose evidence from video clips submitted in Task 2 AND/OR student work samples submitted in Task 3.

See Task 3: Artifacts and Commentary Specifications for instructions on electronic evidence submission. This evidence chart identifies supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications.

What Do I Need to Write?

Assessment Commentary

Write the Assessment Commentary (no more than 8 single-spaced pages, including prompts) by providing your response to each of the prompts below.

1. Analyzing Student Learning
   a. Identify the specific standards/objectives from the lesson plans measured by the assessment chosen for analysis.
   b. Provide the evaluation criteria you are using to analyze the student learning.
   c. Provide a graphic (table or chart) or narrative summary of student learning for your whole class. Be sure to summarize student learning for all evaluation criteria described above.
   d. Use evidence found in the 3 student work samples and the whole class summary to analyze the patterns of learning for the whole class and differences for groups or individual learners relative to creating, performing, or responding to music/dance/theater by applying
      - artistic skills (e.g., self expression, creativity, exploration/improvisation)
      - knowledge (e.g., tools/instruments, technical proficiencies, processes, elements, organizational principles)
      - contextual understandings (e.g., social, cultural, historical, global, personal reflection)

   Consider what students understand and do well, and where they continue to struggle (e.g., common errors, weaknesses, confusions, need for greater challenge).
2. Feedback to Guide Further Learning
Refer to specific evidence of submitted feedback to support your explanations.

a. In what form did you submit your evidence of feedback for the 3 focus students?
   - Written directly on work samples or in a separate document;
   - In audio files; or
   - In video clip(s) from the instruction task (provide a time-stamp reference)?

b. Explain how feedback provided to the 3 focus students addresses their individual strengths and needs relative to the standards/objectives measured.

c. How will you support students to apply the feedback to guide improvement, either within the learning segment or at a later time?

3. Evidence of Language Understanding and Use
You may provide evidence of language use with your video clips from Task 2 AND/OR through the student work samples analyzed in Task 3.

Refer to examples from the clip(s) (with time stamps) and/or student work samples as evidence.
- Explain the extent to which your students were able to use language (selected function, vocabulary, and additional identified demands) to develop content understandings?

4. Using Assessment to Inform Instruction

a. Based on your analysis of student learning presented in prompts 1c–d, describe next steps for instruction
   - for the whole class
   - for the 3 focus students and other individuals/groups with specific needs

   Consider the variety of learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

b. Explain how these next steps follow from your analysis of students’ learning. Support your explanation with principles from research and/or theory.

How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?

When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, and writing. For Task 3: Assessing Student Learning, your evidence will be assessed using Rubrics 11–15, which appear in the following pages.

Professional Responsibilities

Refer to the following table for an overview of your professional responsibilities in developing evidence for edTPA. If you are submitting artifacts and commentaries to Pearson for official scoring, refer to the Pearson website, www.edTPA.com, for complete and current information before beginning your work. Whether or not you are submitting to Pearson, you should fulfill the professional responsibilities described below.

<td>Acquire permissions</td>
<td>Before you record your classroom instruction, ensure that you have the appropriate permission from the parents/guardians of your students and from adults who appear in the video recording. Your program will provide you with procedures and necessary forms to obtain these permissions, according to agreements with the school or district in which you are student teaching or completing your internship. If your program does not provide the necessary forms, you may refer to the sample forms found on the Pearson website. The release forms are not to be submitted with your materials, but you should follow your campus policy for retaining them.</td>

K–12 Performing Arts Context for Learning Information

Use the Context for Learning Information to supply information about your school/classroom context.

About the School Where You Are Teaching

1. In what type of school do you teach?
   - Elementary school:
   - Middle school:
   - High school:
   - Other (please describe):

   - Urban:
   - Suburban:
   - Rural:

2. List any special features of your school or classroom setting (e.g., charter, co-teaching, themed magnet, classroom aide, bilingual, team taught with a special education teacher) that will affect your teaching in this learning segment.

3. Describe any facilities considerations that might impact your instruction (e.g., equipment needs, room layout/design, access to performance/practice space, instruments, accompanist, storage).

4. Describe any district, school, or cooperating teacher requirements or expectations that might affect your planning or delivery of instruction, such as required curricula, pacing plan, use of specific instructional strategies, performance schedules, or standardized tests.

About the Class Featured in This Assessment

1. How much time is devoted each day to performing arts instruction in your classroom?

2. Identify any textbook or instructional program you primarily use for instruction. If a textbook, please provide the title, publisher, and date of publication.

3. List other resources (e.g., electronic whiteboard, recordings, videos, multimedia, online resources) you use for instruction in this class.
About the Students in the Class Featured in This Assessment

1. Grade level composition (e.g., all seventh grade; 2 sophomores and 30 juniors):
   ____________________________________________________

2. Number of ▪ students in the class ____
   ▪ males ______ females ____

3. Complete the chart below to summarize required or needed supports, accommodations or modifications for your students that will affect your instruction in this learning segment. As needed, consult with your cooperating teacher to complete the chart. The first two rows have been completed in italics as examples. Use as many rows as you need.

   Consider the variety of learners in your class who may require different strategies/supports or accommodations/modifications to instruction or assessment.
   ▪ English language learners
   ▪ gifted students needing greater support or challenge
   ▪ students with Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) or 504 plans ▪ struggling readers
   ▪ underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge

K–12 Performing Arts Glossary

academic language: Oral and written language used for academic purposes. Academic language is the means by which students develop and express content understandings. Academic language represents the language of the discipline that students need to learn and use to participate and engage in meaningful ways in the content area. There are language demands that teachers need to consider as they plan to support student learning of content. These language demands include vocabulary, language functions, syntax, and discourse.

- discourse: Discourse includes the structures of written and oral language, as well as how members of the discipline talk, write, and participate in knowledge construction. Discipline-specific discourse has distinctive features or ways of structuring oral or written language (text structures) that provide useful ways for the content to be communicated. In performing arts, language forms include symbolic representations such as notation, dynamics (which can be translated into words), stage and section diagrams, choreography, and narrative (analytical and evaluative critique). If the function is to compare, then appropriate language forms could include Venn diagrams or pattern sentences like “The ______ is similar to/different from the ______.” If the function is to explain a procedure or technique, then students might use sentence starters like “First I…” and “Then I…” to structure the explanation, and use “Finally I…” to signal the conclusion. Students respond verbally and/or physically to symbolic and gestural language in music and dance to demonstrate understanding of these forms of language in a performing arts classroom.

- language demands: Specific ways that academic language (vocabulary, functions, discourse, syntax) is used by students to participate in learning tasks through reading, writing, listening, and/or speaking to demonstrate their disciplinary understanding.

- language functions: The content and language focus of the learning task represented by the active verbs within the learning outcomes. Common language functions in the performing arts include describing techniques or methods used in a given period or style of performance, using analysis to reproduce or reinvent performances, making comparisons based on common attributes, summarizing information, justifying conclusions, evaluating performances, classifying based on attributes, explaining processes, drawing conclusions, and so on.

- syntax: The set of conventions for organizing symbols, words, and phrases together into structures (e.g., sentences, graphs, tables).

- vocabulary: Includes words and phrases that are used within disciplines including: (1) words and phrases with subject-specific meanings that differ from meanings used in everyday life (e.g., table); (2) general academic vocabulary used across disciplines (e.g., compare, analyze, evaluate); and (3) subject-specific words defined for use in the discipline.\(^{11}\)

- artifacts: Authentic work completed by you and your students including lesson plans, copies of instructional and assessment materials, video clip(s) of your teaching, and student work samples. Artifacts are submitted as part of your evidence.

- artistic skills: Creative talents that include self and/or personal expression, imaginative choices, creativity, improvisation, and the ability to explore and create freely without formal boundaries within the specific discipline of the arts. These may be realized through physical movement/dance, musical performance, the spoken word, composition, choreography, and/or the written word. The end result is a skilled, technical artist.

- assessment (formal and informal): "[R]efere[s] to all those activities undertaken by teachers and by their students . . . that provide information to be used as feedback to modify teaching and learning activities."\(^{12}\) Assessments provide evidence of students’ prior knowledge, thinking, or learning in order to evaluate what students understand and how they are thinking. Informal assessments may include, for example, student questions and responses during instruction and teacher observations of students as they work. Formal assessments may include, for example, quizzes, homework assignments, journals, and projects.

- assets (knowledge of students):
  - personal: Refers to specific background information that students bring to the learning environment. Students may bring interests, knowledge, everyday experiences, family backgrounds, and so on, that a teacher can draw upon to support learning.
  - cultural: Refers to the cultural backgrounds and practices that students bring to the learning environment, such as traditions, languages, world views, literature, art, and so on, that a teacher can draw upon to support learning.
  - community: Refers to common backgrounds and experiences that students bring from the community where they live, such as resources, local landmarks, community events and practices, and so on, that a teacher can draw upon to support learning.

- central focus: A description of the important understandings and core concepts that you want students to develop within the learning segment. The central focus should go beyond a list of facts and skills, align with content standards and learning objectives, and address the subject-specific components in the learning segment. For example, the subject-specific components for K–12 Performing Arts include using artistic skills, knowledge, and contextual understandings to create, perform, or respond to music/dance/theater. A central focus for a music or dance learning segment might be recognizing rhythmic patterns. The learning segment would focus on conceptual understanding of rhythm and recognizing the different...

beats through clapping or counting. In theater performance, an example might be a focus on character motivation. The learning segment could include working with students in dialogue analysis to determine the clues offered through language into the character’s motives.

commentary: Submitted as part of each task and, along with artifacts, make up your evidence. The commentaries should be written to explain the rationale behind your teaching decisions and to analyze and reflect on what you have learned about your teaching practice and your students’ learning.

content examples: A visual or aural representation (e.g., sample, illustration, video performances, audio recordings) that carries traits or characteristics of the performing arts idea, task, or concept being studied. A content example provides students with more information to allow further understanding of the concepts and techniques and which can add depth to student knowledge.

contextual understandings: The notion of learning about and reflecting on the skills and techniques of an art form as it is influenced by all the elements of the world, including historical, cultural, social, global, and the impact those elements have made upon the evolution of the art form. These are the principals, which allow for a deeper understanding and experience of performing arts knowledge and artistic expression. For example, it is important to contextualize dance as technically challenging, culturally diverse, and a unique contemporary performing art form with historical roots.

creativity: “Artistic or intellectual inventiveness.” The act of transforming original and imagined ideas into tangible reality. Creativity is defined by the ability “to produce through imaginative skill, [and] to make or bring into existence something new.” Creativity usually requires a sense of personal self-expression, passion, and freedom to explore any and all methods, techniques, and styles. The process allows for choosing, editing, and compiling a variety of ideas into one work of art. This could include the act of expressing individual or group ideas through physical movement/dance, musical performance, the spoken word, composition, choreography, and/or the written word.

demonstration: The act of clearly showing, sharing, or explaining a process or set of skills, exercises, or tasks, illustrated by examples. In dance, the action of executing the movement phrases, exercises, and studies by physically showing the combination with the body.

electronic submission: Your evidence is submitted electronically through the online system used by your teacher preparation program. Your submission must conform to the specifications listed in the K–12 Performing Arts Evidence Chart.

engaging students in learning: Using instructional and motivational strategies that promote students’ active involvement in learning tasks that increase their knowledge, skills, and abilities related to specific learning objectives. Engagement in learning contrasts with student participation in learning tasks that are not well-designed and/or implemented and do not increase student learning.

evaluation criteria: Performance indicators or dimensions that are used to assess evidence of student learning. They indicate the qualities by which levels of performance can be differentiated and that anchor judgments about the learner’s degree of success on an assessment. Evaluation criteria can be represented in various ways, such as a rubric, a point system for different levels of performance, or rules for awarding full versus partial credit. Evaluation criteria may examine correctness/accuracy, cognitive complexity, originality, sophistication or elaboration of performances, responses, or quality of explanations.

evidence: Consists of artifacts that document how you planned and implemented instruction AND commentaries that explain your plans and what is seen in the video recording(s) or examine what you learned about your teaching practice and your students’ learning. Evidence should demonstrate your ability to design lesson plans with instructional supports that deepen student learning, use knowledge of your students to inform instruction, foster a positive learning environment that promotes student learning, monitor and assess student progress toward learning objectives, and analyze your teaching effectiveness. Your evidence must be submitted electronically using the electronic portfolio management system used by your teacher preparation program.

knowledge: The individual techniques, tools/instruments, processes, elements and organizational principles learned as a part of the discipline and training in an art form. These are the fundamentals, which will allow students to learn and understand performing arts concepts that will then lead to artistic expression. In dance, knowledge may refer to the actual technique, such as Graham, Limon, or Cunningham, and the elements, such as chance, retrograde, or canon.

learning environment: The designed physical and emotional context, established and maintained throughout the learning segment to support a positive and productive learning experience for students.

learning objectives: Student learning outcomes to be achieved by the end of the lesson or learning segment.

learning segment: A set of 3–5 lessons that build one upon another toward a central focus, with a clearly defined beginning and end.

learning task: Includes activities, discussions, or other modes of participation that engage students to develop, practice, and apply skills and knowledge related to a specific learning goal. Learning tasks may be scaffolded to connect prior knowledge to new knowledge and often include formative assessment.

modeling: The act of representing something (sometimes on a smaller scale) or demonstrating techniques and methods to express ideas. This can be accomplished through physical movement/dance, musical performance, the spoken word, composition, choreography, and/or the written word.

patterns of learning: Includes both quantitative and qualitative consistencies for different groups of students and individuals across the whole class. Quantitative patterns indicate the number of similar correct responses or errors across or within student assessments. Qualitative patterns include descriptions of understandings and/or misunderstandings and partial understandings that underlie the quantitative patterns.
performance: Refers to the performance of an existing or original work. Students utilize technical, interpretation, and re-creation skills. In music, students might sing, play, or read or write notation. In dance, students might create or imitate movements coordinated with music or design choreography. In theater, students might act, direct, or design elements of a theatrical production, such as lighting or the set.

prior academic learning and prerequisite skills: Includes students’ content knowledge and skills as well as academic experiences developed prior to the learning segment.

response(s): A category of competencies, including describing, interpreting, evaluating, and responding to work in the arts at developmentally appropriate levels of sophistication. For example, a student can respond to art produced by themselves, peers, or others to develop personal interpretations of performing arts, analyze the effectiveness of different elements of the art in accomplishing a purpose, or create meaning. "The response is usually a combination of affective, cognitive, and physical behavior. Responding involves a level of perceptual or observational skill; a description, analysis, or interpretation on the part of the respondent; and sometimes a judgment or evaluation based on criteria that may be self-constructed or commonly held by a group or culture. Responding calls on higher-order thinking and is central to the creative process. Although a response is usually thought of as verbal (oral or written), responses can and should also be conveyed nonverbally or in the art forms themselves. Major works of art in all traditions engage artists in a dialogue that crosses generations."

rubrics: Subject-specific evaluation criteria used to score your performance on edTPA. These rubrics are included in the handbook following the directions for each task. The descriptors in the five-level rubrics address a wide range of performance representing the knowledge and skills of a novice not ready to teach (Level 1) to the advanced practices of a highly accomplished beginner (Level 5).

solfège: A method of training for sight reading and relative pitch in which notes are sung using syllables representing pitches, for example, do, re, mi.

variety of learners: Students in your class who may require different strategies or support. These students include but are not limited to students with IEPs, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students.
